

Arklow C.B.S.

Golden Jubilee

1961 - 2011

The Principal Peter Somers

It is a great honour for me, as a past pupil, to serve as the Principal and I look forward to our jubilee celebration on 17th of September as the first of many reunion events. Over the last 50 years, the C.B.S. has developed a well regarded and respected reputation for service and success and it is this legacy that I particularly want to acknowledge and publicly celebrate with my fellow past pupils and staff members.

There have been significant changes and developments over the last fifty years. These include the name change from St. Kevin's to Arklow C.B.S. approved by the Board of Management in 2005.

During this period, the C.B.S. has witnessed the evolution of Post Primary Education in Ireland from the introduction of free education to the widespread integration of Information Technology into the classroom. School is a reflection of society and like society, the rate of change has accelerated greatly in the last 10 to 15 years. This cycle is continuing with developments such as ibooks and virtual classrooms.

However, it is important to remember that the quality and breadth of the curriculum implemented fifty years ago showed great vision. This is particularly pertinent in relation to the emphasis on Science and Mathematics back to 1961. These are still very much core elements of our curriculum today.

As the current principal, I look back with admiration at the achievements the previous principals and school community who faced a variety of challenging experiences such as setting up a school from scratch with little or no funding, fund raising to build the new extension during the recession of the early 80's and running a school on a day to day basis pre the Internet. However, our predecessors overcame these challenges and left a legacy that we are extremely proud of.

Many of us may not recall all of our fellow students and teachers. The reasons for these gaps in memory will vary so I hope this booklet helps to jog your memory. Personally, I feel very proud to have been given the opportunity to return to my old school in this capacity, and in particular, to work with a number of the teachers who actually taught me. This is truly a marvellous and rewarding experience.

I believe the past pupils of the C.B.S. are a valuable resource which we have not made the most of and our objective is to restart our Past Pupils union running annual events. To mark our 50th year, we are going to set up a system whereby our past pupils can sponsor a book for our library and the book will have the sponsor's name displayed on it.

In conclusion, I would like to thank everyone who has contributed to this jubilee celebration, especially the members of the Jubilee committee who are responsible for the organisation of the entire event. Dia ar Neart

Deputy Principal PJ Sheehy

I took up my teaching position at Arklow C.B.S. in 1974, thanks in no small way to Bro. Flahive who was then principal. I expected to stay for two years at the most. However, circumstances have a strange way of charting a career path and so after 37 years in the school it is a privilege to contribute to this jubilee booklet.

Over the years, the school has seen many changes with its fortunes waxing and waning from time to time, but 2011 sees us in a very happy place thanks to the parents who entrust their sons to our care for five or six years, to the commitment of all staff and the infectious enthusiasm of the principal.

The school management changes over the years have resulted in a greater sense of school community, with an increased sense of shared ownership by staff, students and parents. This is something that many other schools can only aspire to but in C.B.S. Arklow it has created a working environment that is both positive and caring which leads ultimately to the benefit of the students.

Having taught hundreds of students at Arklow C.B.S., it has been sometimes challenging, occasionally exasperating but overall hugely rewarding. I hope that I have made some little impact for the better on the students who have passed through the doors.

Finally, as C.B.S. Arklow celebrates 50 years in education provision, all I need add is "Go mairfidh se céad".

The Board of Management Tony Bellew, Chairperson.

During my two years as Chairperson of the Board of Management, I have been extremely impressed with the great spirit and atmosphere that exists in the school. I have witnessed this at the meetings I have attended and on the other occasions I have visited the school.

The students achieve excellent results in the Leaving and Junior Certificate examinations each year which is a great testament to the tremendous work put in by all the teachers. There is also a wide variety of extra curricular/sporting activities available to the boys which insures them of a very good all round education. Teachers give freely of their time on a regular basis to provide these activities which is an example of the great commitment they make on an ongoing basis.

The Principal, Peter Somers, the Deputy Principal, P J Sheehy and the staff put in a huge amount of work on a daily basis to make sure that the students have all they need to realise their potential. The best of facilities are provided for staff and students to work in. The Parents Council do fantastic work in lots of different ways and, also, provide much needed financial support through fundraising activities. I have been really impressed with the students on the occasions I have been in their company. The Edmund Rice ethos is very much in evidence throughout the school.

I would like to congratulate all concerned on the 50 years just completed and to wish the staff, students and parents all the best in the coming years.

Parents Council Derek Allen, Chairperson

The Parents Council serves two particular roles within the school community. The first role is to provide a forum for the parents of students so they can have a practical input into how the school is run.

Through the Parents Council parents can review new school policies and suggest changes if necessary. The Parents Council gives parents the opportunity to interact directly with the management of the school and gives them a chance to voice concerns if necessary. Though the role of the Parents Council is constantly changing according to what is required from it during any particular year its key function is always to represent the parents.

The second role that the Council provides is to raise funds and hold events to help to strengthen the community spirit within the school. By working with the students and their parents the council help to fund equipment and events which are not funded by the school budget.

The parents Council are constantly trying to come up with new and fun ways to raise funds for the school and will always welcome any ideas from parents who want to get involved.

One of the most important functions that the Parents Council provides is the book rental scheme. This service provides an affordable way for parents to provide the books needed by the students each year. The scheme has in the past and continues to be run by very dedicated members of the council who give up their time to insure that this service is provided year after year. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the council members both past and present who have worked so hard to make the rental scheme so successful.

The Parents Council will always need new members to provide the means that will help inspire the next generation of students to achieve their full potential.

With the active involvement of parents through the Council and the dedication and passion of the teaching body, the community spirit within the school can grow and strengthen and the school can continue to excel as a place of learning for generations to come.

Arklow C.B.S. – 50 years of history

On the Feast of Our Lady's Nativity, September 8th, 1961, Ard Scoil Chaoimhin, Arklow, opened its doors for the first time to admit the seventy pupils, thirty 1st years, thirty 2nd years and ten 3rd years, who presented themselves in search of secondary education. They were received on the morning by the newly appointed and first Superior, Brother W.M. Loughnane who was ably assisted by his then two member staff, Brother B. Mullane and Mr. Liam Mc Carthy. The newly arrived were immediately assigned their classes and were soon busy at school-work. Thus began an undertaking, the preparation and planning for which had extended over well-nigh a quarter of a century.

1937 In response to an invitation from the clergy and people of Arklow, the Provincial of the Christian Brothers in Ireland visited the town with a view to discussing the feasibility of opening there a Secondary School for boys under the Management of the Christian Brothers. Though the brothers seemed to have been satisfied with the proposed siting for the school and the other attendant circumstances which then prevailed in the area, movement on the project did not materialise for whatever reason and so the local community in Arklow were compelled to resort to an alternative arrangement.

1942 Seeing no immediate hope of a Brothers' establishment, a local committee invited Mr. Liam McCarthy M.A., who at the time was a teacher at De La Salle Brothers' Secondary School in Wicklow, to open a day Secondary school in Arklow. The invitation was accepted and Mr. McCarthy began his work in St. Patrick's Academy. Labouring under most adverse conditions, very creditable results were secured at the Academy but such conditions were not conducive to advanced Secondary education and again the local committee reorganised for the purpose of approaching again the Christian Brothers. After negotiations involving Brother Dowling, the C.B.S. Provincial, Very Rev. John Pigott, Parish Priest of Arklow, Most Rev. J.C. McQuaid, Archbishop of Dublin and other concerned parties, agreement was reached and plans were laid for the erection of a School and Monastery on a five acre site donated by Rev. Fr. Pigott.

1961 Work on the site commenced on October 27th, 1960 and despite inclement weather, proceeded at a steady pace. By the scheduled opening date, September 8th, 1961 the upper storey of the building was ready for occupation and it was there that the first pupils of Ard Scoil Chaoimhin sat down to class on that first memorable morning. The monastery adjoining the School was occupied for the first time on September 20th 1961. The school is dedicated to the memory of St. Kevin, not very far from whose rocky retreat the building now stands.

1964 saw the first students of Ard Scoil Chaoimhin sit for their Leaving Certificate examination. The class of '64 was comprised of George McCarthy, Patrick Dunne, Robert Hickson, Thomas Keogh, Thomas Cooper, Patrick O' Neill, Donal Keenan, Peter Murphy, Pat McCarthy and John Darmody. In September of the same year, 160 students were on rolls and this figure increased steadily each year thereafter until a maximum was reached in 1974 when there were 272 pupils on rolls. As early as 1965 the accommodation provided in the original building was found to be grossly inadequate, such was demand for places at the school. In the mid 70's one third of the students were being accommodated in prefabricated buildings which were acquired as a temporary measure until further extensions could be undertaken. In 1969 Planning permission was subsequently refused because estimated costs were thought too high and in excess of the Departments' maximum rate.

1975 In October 1975 the long awaited permission was granted to the School Management and remote preparations for school extension plans were undertaken by Mr. G. Moloney in 1977. In November 1984 tenders for this new undertaking were sought and on October 9th 1985, the successful company, Messrs. Joplin Development Ltd., began marking out the site for the new additions. The then Minister for Education, Mrs. Gemma Hussey officially laid the foundation stone for the new building on November 4th. Work on the site was carried out with great intensity from day one and the new classrooms were ready for occupation for the beginning of the school year 1986/87. A seventeen year dream had finally materialised and the pupils henceforth would benefit enormously from their new surroundings and unrivalled facilities.

The extension comprised four classrooms, rooms for woodwork, Arts & Crafts, two Science Laboratories, library, Staffroom, offices, gymnasium and Canteen. In addition there are outdoor facilities for basketball, volleyball and tennis.

1988, was the year that saw the first Board of Management established, this allowed for teacher and parent representation as well as the four nominated representatives of the Trustees of the Christian Brothers. By the end of the year the decision was made to have the position of Principal advertised in the national press due to the retiring of Brother Atkinson from the position.

Charles J. Kavanagh was appointed as the first lay Principal of the school. A native of Co. Wexford, he had taught for several years with the City of Dublin V.E.C. He was ably assisted by Mathun Hickey in the position of Deputy Principal. In 1998 Ollie Wheston took over as Deputy and upon his retirement in 2003, PJ Sheehy stepped into the role. Under Mr. Kavanagh's Principalship the name of the school was changed to Ard Scoil Chaoimhin, but it was, and indeed still is, popularly referred to as 'The Brothers'. Under Mr. Kavanagh's stewardship in the nineties the school numbers increased year on year. This was also the period when Transition Year was introduced very successfully to the school.

2007 Upon Mr. Kavanagh's retirement in 2007, Peter Somers, a past pupil of Ard Scoil Chaoimhin was appointed Principal. During Mr. Somer's short time at the school he has made a huge impact, bringing the school into the 21st century with the updating of the school computer room and the replacement of all the old machines with state of the art flat screen PCs and high speed broadband access throughout the school. He has also installed data projectors and PCs in all the school classrooms.

The school has introduced a tutor system for First Years in order to help ease their transition from primary to post primary and to ensure that adequate support structures are in place for these students. This staff led system was complemented by the simultaneous introduction of a Student Liaison Scheme for assisting with activities for the First Years during break times.

In order to ensure that Arklow C.B.S. can offer a fully inclusive education to all students in the catchment area an autism unit has also been opened within the school to offer specialist help and supports to children with autistic spectrum disorders. Over the last number of years there have been a number of refurbishments to various areas of the school. Amongst these are the Design and Communication Graphics room, the Woodwork room, and most recently the Art Room which has benefited from a new extension as well as being superbly equipped.

2011 September 2011 brought a new student locker room as well as a new school canteen to provide realistically priced healthy nutritious food, all prepared on site by a qualified chef.

The running of a successful school however is not just about providing modern facilities it is about ensuring that the school and its staff serve the students to the best of their ability and thereby guarantee that students have a positive school experience that will last them in good stead in the varied careers and occupations they pursue. With this in mind and in order to uphold Arklow C.B.S. 's long tradition of being a central part of the community of Arklow Town, the school has forged links with many different companies and organisations within the town resulting in sponsorships and scholarships.

There is no doubt that the past fifty years in Arklow C.B.S. have seen the school undergo many positive changes, and, looking to the future, with enrolments steadily increasing, Arklow C.B.S. is sure to remain an important fixture on the educational landscape of Arklow Town.

School Awards

Brendan James Kincaid Memorial Trophy

This prestigious prize was instituted to the memory of the late Dr. Brendan Kincaid of Fernhill in Arklow who passed away at the untimely age of 29. Brendan was an outstanding student of Arklow C.B.S. The award is presented annually to the pupil that achieves outstanding science results in the leaving certificate examination.

Atkinson Shield

This shield is awarded annually to the student who receives the highest Junior Certificate results. It was instated in honour of Brother Atkinson - the last Religious Principal of the school.

Doody Cup

This cup is awarded annually to the student who receives the highest result in the Leaving Certificate. The award was instated in honour of Brother Doody who retired to Arklow C.B.S. and who taught Technical Drawing.

School Crest and Motto

Prior to the introduction of the school uniform to Arklow C.B.S. in January 1984 a competition was held in the school with a view to having a suitable crest created for the uniform. The design brief was to create a crest that simultaneously symbolised the history of Arklow C.B.S., the educational role of the school and also embraced the Catholic Christian Brother ethos of the school. The most popular design produced was that submitted by Liam Byrne from Ferrybank, who was then a third year student.

The Meaning of The Crest:

Celtic Design: This symbolises our ancient Celtic heritage.

Circular Disk Containing The Name of the School: This serves to represent the unity of our ancient past, with Christianity symbolised by the round tower of Glendalough, the location of St. Kevin's Monastic settlement.

The Book: This is symbolic of the Bible and of learning which makes the link with the motto of the Christian Brothers: 'Facere et Docere'.

Base of the Crest: This is the motto of our school - 'God is our strength' - 'Dia ár Neart'. We trust that this will be the driving force of all who pass through the corridors of Arklow C.B.S. and that God will be with them wherever they go.
